

Post-Partum Hemorrhage Quiz

Name _____

Date 2-3-15

- 1) Which of the following are risk factors for post-partum hemorrhage:
 - a) Low-lying placenta
 - b) History of 3 previous cesarean sections
 - c) Platelet count 85,000
 - d) History of post-partum hemorrhage with last delivery
 - ☒ e) All of the above
- 2) Assessment of post-partum hemorrhage risk does not need to start until after the patient has delivered
 - a) True
 - ☒ b) False
- 3) Active management of the 3rd stage of labor includes administration of oxytocin after delivery of the placenta and vigorous fundal massage for at least 15 seconds
 - ☒ a) True
 - b) False
- 4) Cumulative blood loss of >500 ml for a vaginal delivery or >1000 ml for a cesarean delivery would indicate a post-partum hemorrhage
 - ☒ a) True
 - b) False
- 5) If risk factors for post-partum hemorrhage are identified during the admission process, what steps does the nurse need to take next?
 - a) Write "high-risk" on white board, call physician, tell patient to make sure the nurses know she might bleed after delivery
 - ☒ b) Notify physician, check "High-risk for PPH" on order set which will prompt order for "Type and Crossmatch", IV access with 18 gauge angiocath, discuss risk for PPH during all hand-offs
 - c) Nothing, risk factors don't mean that the patient will definitely experience a post-partum hemorrhage

- 6) Estimated blood loss for a vaginal delivery should be recorded by the physician on the Delivery Summary and by the nurse in the I&O section of the EMR
- a) True
 - b) False
- 7) Your patient had a vaginal delivery 12 hours ago with an estimated blood loss of 400 ml's at delivery. In the last 6 hours she has had 3 episodes of "heavy" lochia that saturated her pads, you estimated that the blood loss in the last 6 hours was 300-400ml's. Her vital signs are as follows: BP 80/40 & HR 126. Which of the following orders would you expect to get from the physician
- a) STAT CBC, Type and Cross
 - b) Start 18 gauge IV if patient does not have IV access
 - c) Up ad lib, regular diet
 - d) Have OB resident/DOD evaluate patient
 - e) Oxytocin 20 units in 1000cc LR/hr x1, Cytotec 1000mg PR, Methergine, or Hemabate IM
 - f) All of the above
 - g) a, b, d & e
